SAD DEATH.—The death of Mrs. Daisy Burnside Huffman, wife of A. G. Huffman, occurred in Louisville, Monday, March 15th, caused by heart disease. The death was very sudden although she had been ill for several days. The burial took place Wednesday, at 11:30, at Lancaster cemetery. A large crowd of relatives and friends came with the remains from Louisville and Stanford. Rev. Yandell, of Stanford, conducted a short funeral service. The floral offering was profuse, which together with the outbursts of grief, throughout the entire crowd, manifested clearly the very high esteem in which she was held. She was a lady of excellent traits of character, being a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Burnside. Mr. Burnside was a native of this county and was a member of one largest and most influential families in Central Kentucky. To the husband, his three children, her two sisters, Mrs. R. S. Putman, of Lebanon, and Mrs. E. P. Owsley, of Columbus, Ga., the Record joins the community in extending sincere condolence. — Lancaster Record.

C., who is the author of several books, writes: "For several years I was afflicted with kidney trouble and last winter I was suddenly stricken with a severe pain in my kidneys and was confined to bed eight days unable to get up without assistance. I commenced taking Foley's Kidney Remedy, and the pain gradually abated and finally ceased. I cheerfully recommend Foley's Kidney Remedy." New Stanford Drug Co.

With inlaid rod and jeweled reel,
Soon to a sylvan nook he'll steal.
His fishing kit,
We must admit,
When all complete, will cost a deal.
To save expense he has no wish,
He'll seek a pool where ripples wish.
Established there,
Perhaps he'll snare
A tadpole or a vagrant fish.

Charles P. Taft, a brother of the President, married the only daughter of David Sinton, one of the richest men in Cincinnati, who died in 1900. Mrs. Taft was the sole legatee. EX-SHERIFF SHARPE was acquitted of the charge of conspiracy in the killing of Senator E. W. Carmack at Nashville, but the Coopers, father and son, were given 20 years each in prison. The jury on the first ballot stood six for murder in the first degree, five for murder in the second degree and one for acquittal, but after much deliberation the above verdict was agreed on. The jury on the day before declared it could not agree as to the Coopers but exonerated Sharpe and Saturday when a verdict was brought in, the defense asked the judge to declare it a mistrial and will argue that point in a few days. In the mean time Col. Duncan B. Cooper and his son, Robin Cooper, are out on bonds of $25,000 each. Friends of the Coopers almost fell over each other in their desire to go their bonds. It was a long drawn out trial and there was much playing to the galleries both by the counsel and Judge Hart, who tried the case.

MARSE HENRI took six columns of Saturday's Courier-Journal to prove that prohibition is a failure and that no prohibitionist can be a democrat. But the people will just go on thinking like they formerly did and wonder what the advertisement cost the whisky and beer trusts. What a pity it is that the great editor does not put his talents to better use than furthering the whisky cause.

THE movement to convert the birthplace of Jefferson Davis in Christian county into a memorial park for Southerners was revived Saturday at Hopkinsville. Options on the Davis farm expire April 27 and it is requested that all Confederates and their sympathizers interested send their contributions for the purchase of the Davis place to S. A. Cunningham, Nashville, Tenn.

A BAPTIST church in Somerville, Mass., has decreed that no woman shall be admitted to the services until she has taken off her hat, on the ground that "women spend more time examining others' hats than in listening to the sermon."

THE Casey County News has just rounded out the fifth year of its existence. Brer Thomas has been at the helm since its beginning and deserves much credit for giving the people of Casey so good and newsy a paper.

THE Virginia Supreme Court bars grass widows from breach of promise suits, saying that they having been married are immune from the seducer's wiles. This is good reasoning, if not good law.

THE Lexington Herald's 42-page edition Sunday was a hummer. We congratulate Editor Breckinridge and his corps of assistants on their magnificent effort.

While the Payne tariff bill may get through the House in short order and with few changes, the outlook in the Senate is for prolonged consideration and many amendments. The maximum and minimum rate provision is considered of doubtful expediency by many Senators and others are preparing to make a hard fight to restore the Dingley provisions in schedules affecting their constituents.

The two Houses of the Illinois Assembly in joint session considered the reports from the joint committee that heard the gubernatorial contest brought by Adlai E. Stevenson against Gov. Charles S. Deneen. The joint session adopted the majority report by a strict party vote. It finds that the contestant has failed to make a prima facie case sufficient to warrant the opening of the ballot boxes for a recount.

PAID. - James M. Reynolds has received from the supreme record keeper of the Knights of the Macabees a draft for $950, the amount of insurance held by the late Roland D. Padgett in that good order. Mr. Reynolds is guardian for Mr. Padgett's children. The Macabees have paid quite a large number of policies in this county in the last year and have done so promptly and in full.

TUSCO WATERS KILLED. - Tusco Waters, son of Mrs. Sarah Waters, of Kingsville, was killed at Delta, La., by George S. Long. A shot gun was used and a portion of his face was blown off. It is not known what caused the trouble. The body was brought to Kingsville and interred. Waters was an engineer on the Vicksburg, Shreveport & Pacific Railroad. He visited his mother last Summer and was here during the fair. This office received a letter and remittance from him Tuesday last, in which he asked that he be remembered to his friends in Lincoln county.

Mr. Waters was 38 and unmarried. He is the third and last son of Mrs. Waters to meet a tragic death. Tecumseh Waters was killed by Thomas Lee and Waco Waters by a train at Ludlow. A son-in-law, John Yocum, was killed by the cars near Danville.

HARVEY McROBERTS KILLED. - There was sadness in town and county Saturday night when the news was phoned that little Harvey Muir McRoberts, the bright little five-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. McRoberts, had been fatally hurt by a loaded wagon passing over him at the home of Hon. W. H. Shanks, where the McRoberts are spending the winter. A few moments before the horrible accident, little Harvey had called to Tip Crutchfield, who was driving the wagon, that he and his sister, Annie D. McRoberts, would be down to see him the following day. "All right," answered Crutchfield, and almost in the twinkling of an eye he heard Harvey scream. Crutchfield rushed to the child and grasping him in his arms took him to the house where his grandmother, Mrs. Annie D. VanArsdale, and sister were. The parents were in town at the time and were phoned for but when they reached home the sweet little spirit had flown and there was another angel in the realms above. Harvey was a general favorite and remarkable in many ways. He knew nearly everybody in town and never forgot an incident, it mattered not how immaterial it was, and while not precocious, his ways were greatly in advance of his tender years. It is sad indeed that the fine little fellow should have met such a tragic end. The parents, grandmother and sister are almost crushed by their great loss and in this, their dark hour unbounded sympathy is felt for them. Hay He Who tempers the wind to the shorn lamb give them strength to withstand the fearful blow that has been dealt and cause them soon to realize that their loss is Harvey's eternal gain. At 10 o'clock yesterday morning Rev. J. L. Yandell offered a prayer at the home, an appropriate hymn was sung, after which the remains were laid away in Buffalo cemetery. There was scarcely a dry eye at the funeral and every heart in the vast throng went out to the bereaved family. Beautiful flowers brought by sympathetic and loving friends hid the little mound that marks the resting place of him who was loaned to his parents for so brief a period.

MR. JOHN BRIGHT, SR., whose memory runneth beyond that of many men of the day and who is familiar with the history of Lincoln county from its earliest formation, is contributing some ancient history to the Stanford INTERIOR JOURNAL about the courts of the county which makes very interesting reading. Mr. Bright is past the allotted age of man, but is still active in mind and body and we are glad that he is contributing of his store of knowledge for the benefit of this generation before he goes hence. - Frankfort Journal.
